

ARTICLES OF PEACE, EN- TER COURSE, AND Commerce,

Concluded in the names of the most high and mighty Kings, CHARLES by the grace of God King of Great Britaine, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

And PHILIP the fourth King of Spaine, &c.

In a Treaty at Madrit, the fift day of Nouember after the old Stile, in the yeere of our Lord God M.DC.XXX.

Translated out of Latine into English.

¶ Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, Printer to the Kings most Excellent Maestic: And by the Aſsignes of John Bill, 1630.

the first to yield to me I have been told that the first to yield to me will be the last to yield to me KXKO @ 16 sec mod

the first to yield to me

the first to yield to me

the first to yield to me
will be the last to yield to me
KXKO @ 16 sec mod

¶ By the King.

Hereas it is found
meete and expedient, vpon Weighty considerations moued to his Maiestie, by the intervention of some of His friends, to lay aside Hostility with the King of Spaine, and so to remooue by faire and peaceable means the cause of the warre, whiche hath bred interruption to the Amity betwixt the two Crownes, vpon assurance given his Maiestie hereof by that King, His most Excellent

lent Maiestie hath condescended to renew the ancient Amity, and good intelligence betwixt þ two Crowns, their Realmes, Countreys, Dominions, Vassals and Subiects, And doeth accordingly make knownen to all His loving people, that the sayd Peace and Friendship being so established, not onely all Hostilitie and Warre is to cease on both sides from henceforward, But also the former Trade and Commerce, as it stooode in the use and obseruance of the Treatie, made by His Maiesties blessed Father, is restored and confirmed betweene the sayd Kings, their Kingdomes, Territories, and Subiects aswell by Land as Sea and Fresh waters.

Whiche His Maiestie hath thought fit to declare unto all manner of his Subiects, of whatsoeuer estate they be, strictly charging and commanding them to obserue and accomplish all

all that hereunto belongeth, As it is certainly promised to be published on the side of the King of Spaine, the Date of these presents.

Given at His Maiesties Palace of Westminster , the fift day of December, in the sixt yeere of His Maiesties Reigne.

God sauе the King.

The Preface or Intro- duction to the Treatie with Spaine.

Because the present effect and benefit of the reconciliatio lately concluded betwixt the Kings most Excellent Maiestie , and the King of Spaine , will consist in the renewing and frequenting of a free and open Trade by the Subiects of both Crownes, His Maiestie hath thought it expedient for the better encouragement of the Merchants,

B and

The Preface.

and their direction in the said Commerce, to publish the Articles of the said Treaty & Peace, being in substance the same with the former Treatie made by his blessed Father of glorious memory, Saving that (besides what is priuately agreed concerning Forreigne parts) it is prouided both by publique and priuate stipulation, that Commissioners shalbe appointed on either side to redresse and settle all defects and controuer-sies in matter of Trade, betwixt the subiects of the two Crowns, which is agreed shall bee done with all conuenient expedition.

¶ Ar.

Articles of the Treaty.

Hirst, it is concluded, and accorded, that from this day forward there shall bee a good, sincere, true, firme, and perfect Amitie, League, and Peace to endure for euer, and inviolably to be obserued and kept,

B 2 aswell

Articles of

aswell by Land as Sea and Fresh-water, betwixt the most renowned King of Great Britaine, France, and Ireland; &c. And the most renowned King of Spaine, and their Heires and Successors whomsoever, their Kingdomes, Countries, Dominions, Lands, Peoples, Liege men, and Subiects, now beeing, or which hereafter shall bee, of whatsoeuer condition, state, or degree they are or may bee, so as the said Vassals, and Subiects from henceforth are each of them to fauour other, and to use one another with all kinde and friendly Offices.

II.

the Treatie.

II.

AND that from henceforth all Hostilitie and Enmitie shall cease, and all Offences, Injuries and Damages which either part in time of the troubles hath sustained by the other, shall bee taken away and forgotten in such sort, as that hereafter neither par-tie against the other for and upon occasion of any Damages, Offences, Depredations or Spoyles past may pretend any matter, but that there shall bee a perfect Abolition of all and every of them vntill this present day; And that all actions for the same shall bee held and re-

B 3                      puted

Articles of

puted to bee extinguished, excepting all such Depredations which shall bee committed, within the ~~Narrow Seas~~ after the space of fifteene dayes; and betwixt the ~~Narrow Seas~~ and the Islands after the space of three Moneths; and beyond the Line after the space of Nine Moneths fully ended, to be reckoned from the Publication of the Peace: Or immediately after the notice of the Peace sufficiently giuen in the said places, by Authenticall Actes or Letters respetcively to bee shewen, Because of these an account and full restitution is to be made. And each partie shall hereafter abstanie

the Treatie.

staine from all Depredations, Offences and Spoyles as well by Sea as Land and fresh Waters, in whatsoeuer the Kingdomes, Dominions, Places or Gouvernments of the other: Neither shall the aforesaid Kings consent, that any of the Grievances before mentioned, be done by any of their Vassals, Inhabitants or Subjects: And they shall also cause Restitution to be made of all Depredations and Spoyles, which heereafter shall be committed, and of the Damages growing by meanes thereof.

III.

Aticles of

III.

Item, That none of the fore-named most Renowned Kings, their heires, or Successors whatsoever, by himselfe, or by any others, shall Doe, Treate or Attempt any thing against the other, or against their Kingdomes, Lands or Dominions, whatsoever in any place, on Land or Sea, or in the Ports or Fresh Waters, by pretence of any cause or vpon any occasion; neither any of them shall giue Assistance or Consent unto any Warre, Counsell, Attempt, or Treaties, had, made, or to be made in

the Treatie.
*in the preiudice of either or agaist
the other.*

IV.

Item, That neither of the former parties, shall themselues giue or shall consent to be giuen by any of their Vassals, Subiects, or Inhabitants, Aide, Fauour, or Counsell, directly or indirectly, on Land, Sea, or Fresh Waters: Nor shall supply and minister, nor consent to be supplyed and ministered, by their said Vassals, Inhabitants and Subiects, vnto the Enemies or Rebels of either part, of what nature or condition soever they be, Whether they shall in-

C uadq

Articles of uadethe Countries and Dominions of either of them, or withdraw themselves from their Obedience and Subiection, any Souldiours, prouision of Viciuals, Monies, instruments of Warre, Munitions, or whatsoeuer other aide else to maintaine Warre.

V.

And furthermore, the fore-said Kings shall renounce, as by the Tenour of these Presents euery of them bath and doth renounce, Whatsoeuer League, Confederation, Capitulation and Intelligence, made by what manner soeuer, in the prejudice of the One

the Treatie.

One or the Other, which doth or may repugne against this Peace, or Concord, and all and singular the Contents thereof: All which and euery of them, so farre as they doe concerne the effect aforesaid, they shall annull and make void, and declare to be of no force or moment.

VI.

Item, It is agreed and accorded, that the said most renowned Kings shall take care, that their Subjects shall from henceforth abstaine from all force and wrong doing, And that they likewise shall revoke all Commissions,

C 2 and

Articles of
and Letters of Reprisall and Mart, or otherwise containing Licence to take Prizes, of what condition or kinde soever they are, being to the prejudice of the one or other of the said Kings, or of their Subiects, whether the same haue beene giuen or granted by them vnto Subiects or Inhabitants, or vnto Strangers, and shall declare the same to be void & of no force, as by this Treatie or Peace they are declared so to be; And whosoever shall doe any thing to the contrarie, bee shall be punished not only criminally according to the merit of his Offence, but shall also bee compelled to make Restitution
and

the Treatie.

and Satisfaction for the losses to the parties damnified, requiring the same.

VII.

Item, It is agreed and accorded, that betweene the most renouned King of Great Britaine &c. and the most renowned King of Spaine &c. and euery of their Vassals, Inhabitants and Subiects, as well by Land as Sea and Fresh Waters, in all and singular their Kingdomes, Dominions, Islands, and other Lands, Cities, Townes, Villages, Hauens and Streights of the said Kingdomes and Dominions, there be or may be free Com-

C 3      merce,

Articles of

merce : In which before the warre betweene Philip the second King of Spaine, and Elizabeth Queene of England , there hath beene Commerce betwixt the said King-domes, according as it was agreed on in the Treatie of peace made in the yeere a thousand sixe hundred and four, in the ninth Article, like and according to the vse and obseruance of the ancient Leagues and Treaties made before the said time, in such sort and manner , as that without any safe conduct or other licence generall or speciall , the Subiects of the One or other King, may freely , as well by Land as by Sea and fresh waters, goe, enter, and saile,

the Treatie.

saile, in and to the said Kingdomes and Dominions, and all the Cities, Hauens, Shores, Sea-rodes and Streights thereof, and put themselues into whatsoeuer Hauens of the same, Where before the aboue said time, there bath beene a mutu-all Commerce, and like and according to the vse and obseruance of the ancient Leagues, and Treties aforesaid, with Carriages, Horses, Burdens, Ships as well laden, as to bee laden, to bring in Merchandises, and there to buy or sell as much as they will, and in the same places vpon iust prices to procure and haue prouision of victuals for their Sustenance and Voyages;

And

Articles of

And likewise as occasion shall require, to repayre such shipping and carriages, as either appertaine unto them in propertie, or else they haue bired or borrowed, and from thence also with their Merchandises, Goods, and other Commodities whatsoeuer, the Customes and Tolles, as they are presently rated according to the Ordinances of the places, beeing paid, they may with like freedome depart and goe to their owne Countries, or any other places at their pleasure, without let or impediment.

VIII

the Treaty.

VIII.

Item, It is likewise agreed and accorded, that it may be lawfull to haue accesse unto the Ports of the said Kings, and there to make stay, and from thence with the same liberty to depart, not onely with their Shippes of Merchandises and burthen, but also with other shipping furnished for warre, and prepared to withstand the force of enemies: Whether they shall arriue there either by force of tempest, or for repairing their shippes, or for provision of victualls, so as they exceede not the number of sixe or eight shippes, when they come in of their owne ac-

D cord

Articles of

cord, nor that they continue nor make stay in the bauens, or about the Ports longer then they shall haue iust cause for the repaire of the same shipping, or for prouision of other necessaries, lest they should be any occasion of interruption unto the free Commerce and Enter-course of other friends and N-ations in Amitie: And whensoeuer any greater number of Ships of war then is before specified, shall haue occasion of accessse into those Ports, then shall it not bee lawfull for them to make any entrance without the priuitle and consent of the Kng. Provided also, that they doe no hostile Acts within the said Ports,

the Treatie.

Ports, to the preiudice of the Kings; but demeane themselues there quietly, as Friends and Confederates, with speciall caution euer to bee had, that under the colour and pretext of Commerce, no warlike ayde, prouision of victualls, or of Armes, or of Munition, or other such like materials for the warres bee carried by the Subiects, Vassals, or inhabitants of those Kingdomes, to the commoditie or benefit of the enemies of the one or other King. And who soeuer shall attempt to the contrary, shall be punished with those sharpe paines and punishments, vsed to be inflicted vpon seditious persons and breakers

D<sup>2</sup> of

Articles of
of faith and peace. Provided also, that the Subjects of the one in the Dominions and Territories of the other, be not worse handled, then the naturall Subjects in their sales and contracts for their Mer-chandises, as well in respect of the prices, as otherwise, but that the condition of forreiners bee equall and like herein unto naturall Subjects. Norwithstanding any Statutes or Customes to the contrary.

I X.

Item, It is agreed and accorded, that the said most renowned King of Great Britaine, &c. shall probibite, and after the confirming of

the Treatie.

of these present Articles, by Proclamation foorthwith prouide, that no one of his subiects, inhabitants, or vassalls, shall Lade, or carry ouer by any meanes, directly, or indirectly, in his owne name, or in the name of any others ; neither shall lend his Ship or other Vessel for carriage, or use his name for the transporting or conueying of any Ships, Merchandises, Manufactures, or any other thing, out of Holland and Zeland into Spaine, or other the Kingdomes and Dominions of the King of Spaine ; neither shall carry in his Ships any Holland or Zeland Merchant unto the said Ports, upon perill of his Maiesties im-

D 3 digna-

Articles of

dignation, and other punishments usually inflicted on the contemners of Royall Commandements. And to the effect, that fraud, which through the likenesse of Merchandise might happen, be the better auoided; It is also prouided in this present Article, that the Mer-chandizes to bee carried and conveyed out of England, Scotland, and Ireland, to the Kingdomes and Dominions of the King of Spaine, shall bee registered and sealed with the Seale of the Towne or Cittie from whence they shall be Laden, and that they being so registered and sealed, shall without any difficultie or question whatsoeuer, bee

the Treatie.

bee reputed and held for English, Scottish, and Irish Merchandizes, and so respectiuely, according to the Seale or marke, bee allowed and admitted. Alwayes excepted, that in case of fraud, profeshall bee admitted, without stay notwithstanding or let of the course or venting of the Merchandizes in the meane time. And touching such Merchandizes, as shall not bee registered nor sealed, the same are to bee confiscated and taken for good Prize. And likewise all Hollanders and Zelanders, which shall be found in the same Ships, may also be taken and detained;

Item,

Articles of

X.

Item, It is also agreed, that English, Scottish, and Irish Merchandises may freely bee conuoyed and transported out of the said Kingdomes, into Spaine, and other Dominions of the said most renouned King, paying only the Customes and Tolles usually required.

XI.

Item, It is likewise agreed, that for the Merchandises, which English, Scottish, and Irish Merchants shall buy in Spaine, or other the Kingdomes of the said King of Spaine, and shall carry in their owne

the Treatie.

owne Ships, or in Ships hired or lent vnto them ( except, as before hath beene said, the ships of Hollanders and Zelanders) no new Customes or Tolle shall bee encreased: yet so as they conuey and carry the same goods and Merchandises to the Kingdomes of the said most renounned King of Great Britaine, &c. or to the Ports of the Prouinces being in obedience to the King of Spaine. And for the more surety that fraud be not committed heere-in, and that the sayd Merchandises bee not transported to other places and Kingdomes, and especially into Holland or Zeland, It is concluded, that the said Merchants shall

E bindē

Articles of

binde themselves, at the time that they do Lade their Ships in Spaine, or in the other Kingdomes and Dominions of the said King of Spaine aboue declared, before the Magistrate of the place in which they shall Lade, to pay the Imposition of thirty-in the hundred, in case they carry the same goods and Merchandises to other Dominions and Countreys: And to obtaine also within the space of twelve mo-neths following a Certificate from the Magistrates of the places where they shall discharge or vnlade the same goods, testifying their discharge to haue beene either in the Kingdomes and Dominions of the King

the Treatie.

King of Great Britaine, &c. or in the Ports of the Prouinces vnder the obedience of the said King of Spaine : Upon the exhibiting whereof, the Obligations concerning those matters shall be deliuered vp, unto the bringers of the same Certificates.

XII.

*A*nd also that the said most renowned King of Great Britaine, &c. shall prohibite soone after the confirming of this accord, that none shall export any Mer-chandises out of Spaine, or other Kingdomes of the King of Spaine, to be carried to other places, then to

E2              His

Articles of

His Maiesties Kingdomes, and the said Ports of the Prouinces in obedience, upon penaltie of confiscation of all their Merchandises to the use of the said King of Great Bri-taine, &c. to be payd into His Maiesties Exchequer: Of which Mer-chandises, or the value thereof, one halfe is to be giuen to the Informer, the imposition of thirty in the hundred being first deducted, to be paid to the Ministers and Deputies of the King of Spaine, & the proofes lawfully receiued in Spaine, and transmited into England in au-thenticall forme, are to bee credited. And it is also declared, that the said prohibition of goods to be carried

the Treatie.

carried out of Spaine, vnto other places, then the Kingdomes of Britaine, and the obedient Trounces of Flanders, doeth no way comprehend those Kingdomes and Domininions which enjoy a free trade with the Kingdome of Spaine: For the Subiects of his Maiestie of Great Britaine, may lawfully transport the goods of the Kingdomes of Spaine, vnto those that haue a mutuall trade with Spaine; the afore-mentioned Cautions, Conditions, and Penalties rebearsed in the precedent Articles against the offend-ders, remaining still in force and strength.

Articles of ### XIII.

Item, That the Magistrates of the said Townes, or Cities of his Maiesties Kingdome, which shall make Certificates of the vnloading of Ships, and are to giue testimonie of the Registering of the Merchandises, shall not commit any fraud therein, under perill of indignation of the Kings Maiestie, and paine of losse of their offices, and other more grievous punishments at the Kings pleasure.

XIV.

THAT which hath before beeene expressed concerning the free Com-

the Treatie.

Commerce, granted unto the Subjects of the said most Renowned Kings, is to bee vnderstood to bee likewise, and in the same manner agreed on for the Subjects of the most Renowned King of Great Britaine, &c. and of the obedient Prouinces of Flanders; To wit, that in all places whatsoeuer, their Subjects are bound reciprocally, to respect, and to fauour each other, and by mutuall kind offices, friendly to entertaine the one the other, and that by Land, Sea, and Freshwaters, without any safe conduct or other licence, generall or speciall, they may unto the said Kingdomes, Dominions, Lands, Villages, Townes,

Articles of Townes, Cities, Sea-shores, Hauens, Sea-rodes whatsoeuer, freely, safely, securely, come, enter, saile, carry, and recarry their Merchandises, buy and sell, remaine, abide and conuerse in the same so long as it shall please them; take up any kinde of prouision for victuall, and things necessary for sustenance, and for Voyages, at iust and reasonable prices, and there repaire also (as occasion shall require) their Shipping and Carriages, whether the same be their owne, or whether they bee hired, or borrowed: As also to depart from thence with like liber-tie, with Merchandises, Goods, and other things whatsoeuer, (the Customes

the Treateie.

Customes and Tolles, according to the Statutes of those places being payd, and to dispose, and follow their busynesses freely, & to returne at their owne pleasure, either into their owne Countreys, or to any other place, without any impediment or let, so as the Subjects of the most Renowned King of Great Bri-taine, &c. use not the Shipping of the Hollanderes, or the united Prou-vinces, and bring not into the abedient Prouinces any of the Manufactures of Holland, or of the united Prouinces, bought wheresoeuer; neither any other thing, for which there was paid in Holland any tribute, nor that they transport

F

any

Articles of

anything from the obedient Provinces, unto them of those Prouinces, untill a pacification be confirmed: nor that they receive any the Goods of Hollanders, or of those other places united into their Ships, nor trust any of their owne Goods in the Ships of Hollanders, nor fraudulently by lending their names, colour the Goods of any Hollander, or other of the united Prouinces: For that if any thing be committed to the contrary, and the same be found, it shall bee held for iust and lawfull Prize.

the Treatie.

XV.

AND the aforesaid promises are not onely to be understood of Ships laden, or to bee laden, in cause of Commerce, but also of Ships of Warre, which the said Kings haue, or shall haue armed to repreffe the attempts of their enemies: Insomuch as that it may bee lawfull for such Ships of Warre, not exceeding the number before mentioned, if they happen to be constrained, either by force of tempeſt, or for buying of victuals, or other things, or for repaire of ſhipping, to vſe the ſame libertie in arriving, ſtaying, and departing; ſo that they

F 2                    doe

Articles of

doe no hostile act in the said Ports, but demeane themselues honestly, and quietly, as it becommeth confe-derates and friends: And so that they stay and remaine not in, or about the same Ports, any longer then shall bee needfull for reparation and prouision of necessaries, that thereby they bee not a bindrance, or interruption to the free Commerce and Entercourse with other Nations, that are in Amtie and Friendship: But where occasion shall fall out of arriuall of any greater number of Shippes then before specified, it shall not be law-full for them to enter, but with the knowledge and allowance of the King.

XVI.

the Treatie.

XVI.

AND as the said Kings doe religiously promise, that they will not at any time yeeld any warlike succour to any of the others enemis, So it is prouided, that their Subjects, or the inhabitants in their Realmes, of what nation or quali-tie soever they bee, may not under colour of Entercourse and Commerce, nor vpon any other colour or pretence give any ayde or helpe to the enemies of the said Kings, or of either of them, or conferre or supply them with money, prouisions of Victuals for Warre, Armour, Munition, Ordnance, Artillery

F 3-                    or

Articles of

or other warlike prouision, and those which shall doe the contrary, are to take knowledge, that they shall be punished with the seuerepunishments accustomed to bee inflicted upon breakers of League, and sedicious persons.

XVII.

AND that also greater benefit may through this Concord come unto the Subjects of the most renowned King of Great Bri-taine, and of the most renowned King of Spaine, in their obedient Prouinces, It is accorded and concluded, that the said most renowned Kings ioyntly and severally will doe their

the Treatie.

their endeauours, that their Subjects haue not the passages stopped or letted unto any of their Ports, Kingdomes and Dominions, that thereby they be not hindered, freely and without impediment to come and goe with their Shipping, Merchandise and Carriages (the ordinary Customes and Tolles being paid) to all the said Ports, Kingdomes and Dominions: And with the like libertie (when it shall seeme so good unto them) with other Merchandises from hence to depart.

XVIII.

Articles of

XVIII.

BIt as concerning the ancient Treasores of Entercourse and Commerce, whereof diuers are extant, hermest the Kingdome of England, Scotland, and Ireland, and the Dominions of the Dukas of Burgundy and Princes of the Low Countreys, which notwithstanding standing during the late troubles haue beene intermitted; and perad-uenture in some parts impaired; It is agreed by may of prauision, That they shall retaine and haue their ancient Force and Authoritie; And that they shall bee vsed on both parts as they were before the Warre betweene

the Treatie.

betweene Elizabeth Queene of England, and Philip the second, according as it was agreed on in the Treatie of Peace made in the yeere a thousand, fixe hundred & foure, in the two and twentieth Article. And if it happen that either by both parts, or any one part, any breach thereof bee alledged, or that the Subiects shall complaine, that the Conuentions are not obserued, or that more grieuous burdens then were accustomed, are imposed on them, there shall bee Deputies appointed on either part, which may meeete, and calling vnto them (if neede be) Merchants experienced in such matters, may friendly

G      Treatie,

Articles of Treaty, and equally renew and restore such things, as shall bee found either to haue slipped out of course, or to haue beeene changed by the injurie of time, or by corrupte custome and vse.

XIX.

AND for that the rights of Commerce which do ensue by Peace, ought not to bee made vn-fruitfull, as they would bee, if the Subiects of the most renowned King of Great Britaine, &c. whilst they haue recourse to and from the Kingdomes and Dominions of the said King of Spaine, and doe re-maine there for Commerce, should cb

the Treatie.

bee moleſted in the cause of Conſcience : Therefore to the intent their Trafficke may bee ſafe and without danger, as well on Land as on Sea, the ſaid moft renowned King of Spaine ſhall take care, and prouide, that for the ſaid cause of Conſcience they ſhall not bee moleſted nor inquieted in uſing their Trade and Commerce, ſo as they giue not ſcandal unto others.

XX.

I Tem., That if it happen any Goods or Merchandizes prohibited to bee carried or conueyed out of the Kingdomes and Dominions of the ſaid moft renowned

G 2      Kings

Articles of Kings, by the Subiects of the One or of the Other; That in such case, the person onely offending shall in-curre punishment, and the Goods onely prohibited shall bee Confiscated.

XXI.

Item, That the Goods of the Subiects, dying within the king-domes or Dominions of either, shall be conserued to the right heires and successors of the deceased; the right of a third person alwayes reserued.

XXII.

Item, That the Graunts and Priuiledges giuen by the Kings

the Treatie.

Kings to Merchants of either of the Kingdomes, comming to their said Kingdomes, and which Princiledges through the Warres haue ceased, shall from henceforth wholly bee reuived, and haue their full force and strength.

XXIII.

I Tem, If it shall happen hereafter (which God forbid!) that any displeasure doe arise, betwixt the said Most renowned Kings, the King of Great Britaine, and the King of Spaine, whereby danger might grow of the interruption of Entercourse and Commerce, then the Subiects of either King are

G 3      thereof

Articles of

thereof so to bee admonished, as that they may haue sixe moneths from the time of the monition, to transport their Merchandizes, without any Arrest, Disturbance, or Hurt in the meane season, to be done or giuen unto them, either in their persons or Merchandizes.

XXIV.

Item, That none of the fore-said Kings shall imbarge or stay for their prouision in Warre, or for any other service, to the preindice of the owners, the ships of the Subiects of any of the others, being in their Ports, or waters, unlesse the King of those parties to whom the Ships

the Treatie.

Ships doe appertaine, shall first be admonished thereof, and shall also yeeld his consent thereunto.

XXV.

*I*tem, It is accorded, that if during this Peace and Amity, anything happen to be attempted, committed or done against the force and effect thereof by Land, Sea or Fresh Waters, either by any of the said Kings, their Heires, and Successors, their Vassals, Subjects or Allies comprehended in this League, or of any the Heires or Successors, of those Allies, their Subjects or Vassals; Yet notwithstanding this Peace and Amitie shall remaine in strength

Articles of strength and vertue, and the attempters and such as doe offend therein onely, and no other, shall be punished for their attempts.

XXVI.

Item, That such as haue beene taken in Warre, and are Captives on either part, although they bee condemned to the Gallies, shall be released and dismissed, the charges of the diet of such as are not in the Gallies being first discharged, and the ransomes of such as haue before agreed for the same, being by them payed.

XXVII.

the Treatie.

XXVII.

Item, It is concluded, that all ciuill actions, which at the time when the last warres began, were of Validitie and of Force, may yet be exercised and pursued, notwithstanding any lapse of time during the same Warre, so as no pre-iudice shall be vnderstood to haue growen unto them, during the continuance of the Warre, those onely excepted, which are already come to the Exchequer or Princes Treasurie.

H

XXVIII.

Articles of

XXVIII.

Item, If any controuersie happen to bee moued in the Kingdomes and Dominions, of the One or other of these Kings, by any person not being Subject to the same King, for or upon occasion of any depredations or spoyles committed; The cause is to bee remitted to the Judge of the Iurisdiction vnder that King, against whose Subject or Subjects the suit is commenced.

XXIX.

Item, That if the Hollanders, and other Confederate States will propose conditions of pacification:

the Treatie.

tion with the most renowned King of Spaine and his Successors through the meanes of the most renowned King of Great Britaine: The said most renowned King of Spaine and his Successors, will alwayes willingly hearken unto that which shall bee proposed iust and reasonable therein; And will desire that by the helpe of the said most renowned King of Great Britaine: they may bee brought to propose equall conditions, wherein they shall well vnderstand, how much the said King of Spaine doth attribute unto the authority of the said King of Great Britaine, his louing brother.

Articles of ### XXX.

*I*tem, It is concluded and accorded, That in this present Treatie of Peace, there bee comprehended, the Adherents, Friends, and Confederates of the forenamed Kings:

That is to say; On the part of the most renowned King of Great Britaine, &c.

Ferdinand, Roman Emperour, with the Arch-Dukes of Austria, and the Electors of the Empire, together with the States & Cities of the Empire.

The

the Treatie.
The Duke of Lorraine.

The Duke of Sauoy.

The Dukes of Brunswick, Lunenburg ; Meckelburg , VVirtemberg.

The Landgrae of Hessen.

The Marquis of Baden.

The Dukes of Pomerania.

The Prince of Anhalt.

The Earle of East-Friesland.

Articles of
The Cantons of Heluetia, and the Grisons.

The Hauns Cities.

The French King.

The Kings of Denmarke, and of Poland, and of Swed-land.

The Duke and State of Venice.

The Duke of Holstein, and the Duke of Florence.

On

the Treatie.

On the part of the most renowned King of Spaine.

Ferdinand, Roman Emperour, and his brethren, and other Princes, Arch-Dukes of Austria, Princes of the Empire.

The Electors, Cities, and States, subiect to the Empire.

The French King.

The King of Poland and Swedland,

The King of Denmarke.

The

Articles of
The Duke and State of Venice.

The Duke of Sauoy.

The Duke of Bauere.

The Duke of Cleue.

The Duke of Holstein.

The Duke of Lorraine.

The Duke of Parma and Placentia.

The Bishop and Prouince of Liege.

The

the Treatie.

The Duke of Florence.

The Duke of Mutine and Regium.

The Duke of Urbine.

The Confederates and Can-tons of the Heluetians and Grisons.

The Cities of the Haunce.

The Earle of East-Friesland (without notwithstanding any prejudice of the right by the King of Spaine and Arch-Dukes, pretended for their States.)

I. The

Articles of The Duke and Commonwealth of Genua.

The Principall of the House of Columna.

The Prince of Oria.

The Principall of the house of Vrsine.

The Duke of Sermoneta.

The Lord of Monacho.

The Earle of Mirandula.

The Prince of Massia.

The

the Treatie.
The Earle of Sala, and the Earle of Colorno.

XXXI.

Item, It is likewise accorded and concluded, that the said most renowned Kings, Charles by the grace of God, King of Great Britaine, France, and Ireland, &c. and Philip King of Spaine, &c. shall sincerely, and faithfully obserue and keepe, and procure to bee obserued and kept by their Subiects and Inhabitants all and singular the Capitulations in this present Treatie accorded and concluded: Neither shall they directly, or in-

I 2      directly

Articles of

directly infringe the same; or consent that the same shall bee infringed directly, or indirectly by any of their Subjects or Inhabitants: And they shall ratifie, authorise, and confirme all and singular the Conventions before accorded, and concluded by Letters Patents, subscribed with their owne hands, and sealed with their great Seales, in sufficient, auailable, and effectuall forme, and the same so formed and made, shall vpon the first occasion deliuere, or cause to bee deliuered faithfully, really, and effectually, whereby they may mutually binde themselues in, the Word of a King, and by oath to bee solemnly taken vpon

the Treaty.

upon the holy Euangelists, to obserue and performe all and singular the premisses, whensoeuer they shall be by either part thereunto required. And furthermore they shall cause this present Treaty of Peace to be published in the manner and places accustomed, so soone as conueniently the same may be.

Imprinted at London
by ROBERT BARKER, Printer to the KING S most Excellent MAESTIE:
and by the Affigues of JOHN BILL.

---

M. DC. XXX.

---

